

WIRELESS FROM STEAMSHIP TRENT

Across Atlantic Fliers Sighted at 4.30 O'clock Tuesday Morning

WELLMAN ASKED FOR ASSISTANCE

Party After Launching the Airship Lifeboat with Much Difficulty, Were Picked Up by the Royal Mail Steamship Trent, Bound from the Bermudas to New York—Steamer is Due to Arrive Today—Airship Abandoned 325 Miles East of Cape Hatteras—Later the Big Dirigible Sailed Away into Space.

On Board Steamship Trent, at Sea, via United Wireless to the Associated Press, Oct. 18.—At 4.30 a. m. today, the steamship Trent, bound from the Bermudas to New York, was contacted by the wireless communication of the airship America, which was in distress. The operator of the airship, Mr. Wellman, asked for assistance. The Trent, which was bound from the Bermudas to New York, was contacted by the wireless communication of the airship America, which was in distress. The operator of the airship, Mr. Wellman, asked for assistance.

The America was Drifting. Daylight was rapidly approaching, and the Trent was then drifting at the rate of twelve miles an hour. Thrilling Experience Launching Lifeboat.

After a council held on the airship, it was decided that the best chance of rescue was to launch the lifeboat. But this was such a hazardous undertaking that much time elapsed before the launching was attempted. The lifeboat, consisting of tanks of gasoline and wooden blocks, threatened to capsize the lifeboat as it was dropped from the balloon. The Trent, which was bound from the Bermudas to New York, was contacted by the wireless communication of the airship America, which was in distress. The operator of the airship, Mr. Wellman, asked for assistance.

Lighted Airship Shot Skyward. The airship immediately on being released of its weight of the crew and boat, shot skyward as the boat shot down.

Wellman Crew All Saved. A moderate sea was running at the time and after some slight difficulty the crew were taken on board, together with the lifeboat at 7.30 a. m. All the members of the crew are well after a thrilling experience. Wireless telegraphy has distinguished itself by showing the greatest assistance in accomplishing the work of rescue.

The Morse lamp signaling also took a great part in the communication between Jack Irwin and officers of the steamer Trent, which gave the signals leading to the rescue.

Blown Far Out of Course. The crew was picked up in latitude 32.42 north, longitude 62.18 west, where the America was abandoned. Wellman said that the airship had been blown far out of her course, so that it was inadvisable to proceed.

The following is the first story of the thrilling rescue, as told by wireless direct from the steamer Trent to the Associated Press.

THE NEWS AT ATLANTIC CITY. GREAT EXCITEMENT PREVAILED.

Mrs. Wellman and Mrs. Vaniman Hurry to New York to Meet the Rescued—Disappointment Over Failure.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 18.—My greatest sorrow is over the terrible disappointment that it will be to my husband and the men of the America over their failure to rescue the airship. We are safe and well, Wellman. I am sure that you will be glad to hear that we are safe and well. We are safe and well, Wellman. I am sure that you will be glad to hear that we are safe and well.

Mr. Wellman has arrived. We must be proud of the men who risked their lives to rescue him. Mr. Wellman has arrived. We must be proud of the men who risked their lives to rescue him.

Business Neglected to Read the Messages. Atlantic City was swept with a wave of excitement when the first message telling of the rescue of the crew of the America was flashed over the wireless in many places was dropped.

The Last Seen of the America. Wellman and his crew are honored guests on board. After a wash and a hearty breakfast, the Trent was contacted by the wireless communication of the airship America, which was in distress. The operator of the airship, Mr. Wellman, asked for assistance.

CAPTAIN DOWN. In Command Steamship Trent. WILL MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT Believe the Second Time Will Prove a Success.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 18.—Another attempt will be made to cross the Atlantic ocean in a dirigible balloon in the next year, according to a wireless message received by President Salus from Chief Engineer Melvin Vaniman of the America venture, in answer to a query sent by Salus as to whether arrangements should be started for a new balloon transatlantic trip.

It is believed that if we had the thing to do over again it would prove a success, said Vaniman's message, which is taken to mean that enough knowledge of air currents was secured to almost guarantee crossing of the ocean by a new attempt.

The game of billiards was introduced into England at the close of the sixteenth century.

Harmony in Sight FOR BAY STATE DEMOCRATS. Deadlock Characterized by Formal Withdrawal of Charles Hamlin as Claimant for the gubernatorial nomination.

Boston, Oct. 18.—But one man stands between the democrats of Massachusetts and harmony after twelve days of controversy over a state ticket for the November election. It is that man, Frederick W. Mansfield, of Boston, carries out the alleged agreement made in the last minutes of the famous "Hall of Mirrors" conference, which draws his name as candidate for governor before 5 p. m. on Thursday, the state ticket will be as follows:

Governor—Eugene C. Fox, of Boston. Lieutenant Governor—Thomas F. Cassidy, of North Adams. Treasurer—Benjamin F. Peach, of Lynn.

Auditor—Charles C. Paine, of Barnstable. Attorney General—John Ratigan, of Worcester.

The deadlock was broken today by the formal withdrawal of Charles S. Hamlin as a claimant for the gubernatorial nomination, and the twenty-four hours the committee of four appointed by the convention had voted unanimously in favor of Mr. Fox.

The situation was further cleared up by the fact that Mr. Fox, who had been elected to the position of lieutenant governor as a democratic citizen, to follow Mr. Hamlin, and was not a member of the party.

Mr. Mansfield's name, however, will appear on the ballot as a democratic independent candidate for lieutenant governor, as the secretary of state has decided that as the convention failed to make any nomination for that office no committee has the power to fill a vacancy.

Mr. Mansfield is an ardent labor advocate and one of the attorneys for the state federation. He fought Mr. Fox on the primary stump and has repeatedly declared since the convention that he would not withdraw in favor of Mr. Fox.

The law gives Mr. Mansfield until Thursday night to withdraw, and the committee until next Monday night to fill the vacancy.

Early tonight, Mr. Mansfield had made no effort to withdraw his name, and it is expected that he will appear tonight at once upon the stump, with denunciation of the republican administration of state affairs as the battle cry.

Boston, Oct. 18.—Frederick W. Mansfield was found at a downtown hotel tonight by members of the committee of four, who endeavored to have him make some statement as to what stand he intended to take in the event of his being elected to the position of lieutenant governor.

Mr. Mansfield refused to commit himself and told the committee that he wished to wait until tomorrow before making a definite answer. After the conference with Mr. Mansfield, the committee was hopeful that he would withdraw in recognition of the unanimous vote of the committee naming Fox for governor.

Balloons Heading For Canada

GERMAN AIRSHIP BELIEVED TO BE IN THE LEAD.

THE INTERNATIONAL RACE

Of the Ten Balloons Leaving St. Louis Monday, Two Were Forced to Descend in Wisconsin Yesterday.

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—Heading straight for Ontario, across the Great Lakes, along the best balloon route in America, Captain Von Abernethy, a German pilot, with his balloon, Germania, is believed tonight to be leading in the international race for the James Gordon Bennett cup. Ten balloons started from St. Louis last yesterday, and as far as reported eight are still sailing northward.

Came Low Enough to Ask the Way. Somewhere in the radius of 100 miles, over Lake Huron, dispatches indicate the America II, the St. Louis No. 4, the Helvetia, the Aurora, the Isle De France, the Harburg III and the Dusseldorf II are keeping close company with the leader. The Dusseldorf II passed Reed City, Mich., at 6 o'clock tonight. Pilot Gericks came low enough to ask the way and then ascended, traveling northward.

Six Balloons Crossed Michigan. Six balloons are reported to have crossed Michigan and others are thought to be either flying across Lake Huron or to have passed into Canada. The balloons were seen by a number of people in the vicinity of Reed City, Mich., at 6 o'clock tonight.

Population club, one of the three American entrants, was forced to descend from coast near Starkeville, Wis., this morning at 7.25 because of a lack of ballast. The French balloon Count, pilot Jacques Faure, landed four miles north of Two Rivers, Wis., late today.

Sensational Aeroplane FLIGHT AT BELMONT PARK. By Moisant, the American Aviator—Coolness Prevented Accident.

New York, Oct. 18.—By far the most sensational aerial flight that has been seen at Belmont park in the practice trials for the international aviation meet that opens Saturday was made by John R. Moisant, the American aviator of Paris-to-London fame. Moisant rose to a height of 1,500 feet, sailed to the Garden City aviation field, seven miles away, and returned in seventeen minutes. Two other shorter flights preceded the cross country trip.

Jumped Aeroplane Over Frightened Children. Moisant's coolness and skill, earlier in the day prevented what might have been a fatal accident, with a party of children as the victims. A guard along the track just as the aviator was coming down the stretch, preparing to land, perceived the danger. Moisant opened the engine and was able to jump over the frightened group.

Claude Grahame-White and Clifford B. Harrison made short flights today, but found the wind to be treacherous. Glenn Curtiss changes to monoplane. A telegram received today by J. C. McCoy, chairman of the aviation committee, from Glenn H. Curtiss, winner of the international trophy at Rheims last year, caused considerable comment. The message announced that two of the operators entered to handle his machines in the contest will use monoplane type instead of the biplanes. All of the Curtiss machines publicly used so far have been biplanes and much speculation as to the change to the monoplane type caused much speculation. All the information obtainable on the subject, however, was contained in the telegram.

TO REDUCE DEMURRAGE FREE TIME IN NEW ENGLAND. New England Shippers and Railroad Attorneys at Boston Hearing.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 18.—New England shippers and railroad attorneys were gathered here today for a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed reduction of free time in New England from ninety-six to forty-eight hours. The attendance, however, was much smaller than yesterday.

General Agent Hales of the American Railway association stated that the New England demurrage rules were drawn by the national association of railroads, and that the proposed reduction would be a benefit to the shippers. He felt that the New England railroads would construe the new rules liberally.

Counsel Robbins for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad said that his road was willing to accept the reduction, but to interpret them in a liberal spirit.

Superintendent Horner of the Boston and Maine railroad declared that in New York state receipts under forty-eight hours demurrage were practically the same as in New England.

Nassau Fish and Game Club House at Bridgeport Burned. Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 18.—Fire last night destroyed the Nassau Fish and Game club house with a loss of $1,500. The fire was set by a brush fire near the Trumbull line which started Sunday and was supposed to have been extinguished. At one time it was thought that the fire might spread to the magazines of the Union Metallic Cartridge company, and a force of men was sent to prevent the spread of the flames, which were gotten under control.

Warner, widow of the deceased, and their sons and two daughters, the will makes bequests of various sums to charities. These gifts include one of $25,000 to Middlebury college, Middlebury, Conn.
